

Support Tenants' Beginning New Chapter in Life with Utilities Service Handling Through Alliance with Renxa

Leopalace21 Corporation (Headquarters: Nakano-ku, Tokyo; President and CEO: Bunya Miyao; "the Company") announced that it formed a business alliance with Renxa, Inc. (Headquarters: Toshima-ku, Tokyo; President and CEO: Koji Sakamoto; "Renxa") so that the tenants are supported in utilities service procedures at the time of their moving in a new home.

Background of Business Alliance

In the past, the tenants had to complete the utilities service procedures on their own at the time of move in, which is a cumbersome burden.

The Company aims to solve the hassles faced by tenants, and by collaborating with Renxa, which provides support for moving procedures, the Company will save the tenants' burdensome procedures when they move in, and contribute to a comfortable and secure start for a new chapter in life.

Outline of Collaboration

For the tenants of the apartments under Leopalace21's management, who will enjoy their new chapter in life, Renxa provides a service that takes care of utilities and other cumbersome procedures on their behalf. In addition, Renxa proposes appropriate service plans that are fit for the tenants' living environment and needs.

(1) Lifestyle Advisor

Renxa's advisors provide free guidance to the tenants who starts their new chapter in life, including procedures for starting to use lifelines such as electricity, gas, water, and Internet access, as well as useful services and products when moving in, and reviewing their lifestyle after moving in.

(2) Lifestyle Advisor Global

For foreign nationals residing in Japan, native speakers of English and other languages will provide lifeline plans free of charge.

Outlook

By partnering with Renxa to provide support for utilities service procedures when moving to a new home, the Company will further improve convenience for the tenants to help them to begin the new chapter in life.
